Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON May 1.—The demand for California wool continues good but in other kinds there is no movement of importance. Calif rnia and pulled wools are in fact the only kinds with which the market is fully supplied and the former is almost exclusively for them. Buyers very little require for the stock of really desirable is quite reduced. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania fleece at 44 and XX at 38@42 Wisconsin and Michigan fleece at 40@44 California unwashed 30@40 with some choice and fancy lots a shade higher; pulled ranges from 40@42 for superior and X and very choice fine and extra superfine 42@45. In combing wools there has been very little done; some New Kentucky has been received but holders are not offering at present.

Other specials think the Virginia Democratic delegates will be for Tilden those of Missouri also while Maryland will be either for Bayard or Tilden and Tennessee for Tilden or Hendricks.

Police Officer Killed.

CHICAGO May 31.—Officer B H Dallas, of the police force at Quincy Ill was shot and killed by burglars yesterday.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Hawaiian Treaty Investigation.

WASHINGTON May 31.—The ways and means committee this morning continued their inquiry as to whether improper influence were used to procure the passage by the House of the bill to carry the Hawaiian treaty into effect. Dr McNulty was examined and testified he knew nothing whatever on the subject except by rumor.

Chief Justice Allen, Hawaiian diplomatic representative of the sandwich Islands in connection with the reciprocity treaty, being sworn and examined made a statement under oath to the effect that not a dollar of money had been spent by the Hawaiian government to secure the passage of the bill except $20 for printing nor had he any knowledge whatever of any lobby expenditures.

Representative Keller whose name mentioned in a newspaper article as having intimated in debate that money was used to procure the passage of the bill said he had not the belief at the present time that any improper influences were used to secure the passage of the bill.

Blaine Investigation.

The sub judiciary committee investigating the $64 000 bond charge against ex Speaker Blaine today examined Warren Fisher jun He testified he was a contractor for building a portion of the Fort Smith and Little Rock railway and sold out the contract to Joseph Caldwell. Witness was to have received from him $250 000 but actually received only $25 000. He was to be paid by the company in bonds and stock at the rate of $30 000 nominally about $300 000 or $400 000 which he sold or traded off from time to time. Witness further testified that he never said he gave Blaine $130 000 in bonds of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad without consideration or that he ever said any thing of this nature nor had he ever said he had ever given Blaine $130 000 in bonds without consideration never sold any bonds to Tom Scott, and never saw him but once in his life and that was in 1861. Witness never sold any bonds to Blaine, but sold him stock. He understood that Blaine owned some bonds, and thinks Blaine himself told him so. Does not know what the company did with them and don't know that any of them found their way to the U P Co.

Hunton read to witness a report in the papers that he said he gave Blaine $130 000 in bonds without consideration and asked if he said so. Witness replied he never said so, nor anything like it.

By Frye—As a matter of fact did you ever give Blaine $130 000 in bonds without consideration? Witness—No sir. Witness never was connected with the U P R R don't know Morton Bliss & Co and had never any transaction with them. The bonds spoken of by witness as being owned by Blaine he understood were bought by Blaine for other parties.

F S Atkins of Boston testified that he had been director of the U P Co since 1860 and had been a member of the executive committee. first knew about the Fort Smith and Little Rock railroad bonds in 1871 when an order came to the treasurer to pay a draft of Morton Bliss & Co for $64 000 for 70 of them owned by Tom Scott. Understood that it was in lieu of paying a large salary to Scott. Scott was of immense value to the road and increased the market value of its securities. He also supposed Scott took hold of the U P road in order to make connection to the Pacific coast for the Pennsylvania railroad. Bonds of the Little Rock road worth about 60, think that was their fair value at that time although I know some were sold as high as 75. Witness wouldn't have sold his own for 60 at that time but made a mistake by not doing so if arrangements had been carried out with the Southern Security Company the bonds would have been very cheap at 60. No bonus accompanied the sale of Scott's bonds. Witness knew that some inquiry was made by the board of directors about the purchase of these bonds and a satisfactory explanation given never heard an investigation would involve Blaine.

Jas Madigan, of Boston, testified before the Pierce committee, and said he was treasurer of the E V I Theater but was formerly book keeper for the firm in which Mr Fisher was a partner. He knew of the sale of Fort Smith bonds and went into the hands of Mr Blaine. Knows of all the particulars of the sale of seventy five bonds to Blaine. In the transaction there were 113 000 and the sale of them netted Fisher 45 per cent on their par value. Witness attempted to explain this transaction by Fisher on behalf of Blaine, who subpœnaed him on the ground that it related to quite a number of persons in Maine for whom Blaine transacted business and whenever the committee was ready to go into that Blaine would like to take the stand as a witness and explain the whole transaction. Much time was spent on this point during which witness made some statements about a matter not very intelligible to the committee. Witness was then asked whether he ever heard that any of these bonds went from Blaine to Thomas A Scott, and replied that he understood Mr Atkins had sold seventy five bonds in all. Atkins from Blaine to Scott and that Scott got them off on the Union Pacific Company. This remark was made by Atkins to witness at the time when the latter was book keeper for Fisher was engaged in making a settlement with Blaine of all transactions with Fisher and about the same time witness understood from Blaine himself that he sold some bonds from parties in Maine who had formerly purchased them. Fisher wrote Blaine about the bonds which had been negotiated for by Blaine telling him of completing the railroad to Fort Smith and Blaine wrote back he had received no benefit from them and he did not have the money in his possession forty eight hours. Witness afterwards met Blaine at the Parker House in Boston and Blaine said he was now going to settle with the witness referring to the account between Blaine and the witness being book keeper. Blaine complained at that time of not having received any bonds and witness said he could not have lost much for he knew where he got off 75 of them 148 hours.

By Mr Lawrence—Did the settlement you speak of refer to the seventy five Little Rock bonds? Answer—To both.

By Blaine—I have had business transactions with Fisher for twenty years and this is the first covered all that time. Witness—some of the transactions related at that time took place before Blaine came to Congress, I think.

Mr Blaine thought the committee had nothing to do with his private business transactions which took place years before he became a member of Congress and Frye and Lawrence were in favor of having the witness go into the details of that settlement but the chairman said he hesitated to interfere with the business of the committee but would if the committee desired it. Mr Blaine then said he would withdraw the objection and let the witness go into the matter. Witness then proceeded to explain the settlement between himself and Blaine with the bond which he had supposed went the right way.

After adjournment Mr Frye said that if the Democratic members would withdraw their objection to the examination of Blaine's private business affairs he would withdraw his objection to the investigation and let the committee proceed in the matter. Mr Blaine said he would not take advantage of the withdrawal of the objection but would submit to examination.

Kerr Investigation.

WASHINGTON May 31.—Witnesses were examined by the committee investigating the War Department of the Kerr matter. The committee adjourned until to-morrow.

Robeson Demands an Open Hearing.

WASHINGTON May 31.—Robeson appeared this morning before the naval committee and again demanded an open hearing. He was refused. In the first heard in regard to this connection with Cowell as the charges relating to that matter were of such gravity that they would embrace his character if uncontradicted. The latter request was granted but the question of secrecy was held under further advisement. Robeson will testify to-morrow.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON May 31.—Wright (Rep) presented a petition of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce remonstrating against the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty referred to the committee on Foreign Relations.

Conkling presented certain rules of the New York Transportation Company Association referred to the committee on Commerce.

Conkling presented a memorial of butchers asking certain further guarantees for butchers referred to the committee on Agriculture.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the unfinished business being the bill to refund to the Japanese indemnity fund.

Merrimon opposed the bill.

Withdrawn the Japanese indemnity bill was reported from the Senate.

Ingalls spoke against the bill.

The question then being on the amendment made in committee of the whole.

Sargent opposed the bill and said before the Senate was gratuitous and lavish to other countries it should be just to our own people. He did not believe it right to take this money and return it to Japan.

After debate the amendments were agreed to.

Freeling ysen moved to amend by striking out the clause authorizing the return of funds with all accumulations of interest and inserting laws authorizing the return of the principal only agreed to. Yeas 2, nays 41. Sherman moved to amend so as to provide that the residue of said funds after returning the principal so far as the sum is in bonds, shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury to be cancelled and that the portion of it which is in money shall be covered into the treasury agreed to. The bill then passed—41 against 20. Adjourned.

House.

Jones offered a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the House that the House should pass without delay the bill repealing the resumption act, and should prohibit any further contraction of the currency and if necessary to meet the demands of the people should provide for its increase and should provide for the displacement of National bank notes with United states notes and should also provide for a speedy resumption on gold and silver referred to committee on banking and currency.

After a long discussion the minority resolution was rejected—ayes 72 nays 106—and the majority resolution declaring Morris sitting member not entitled to his seat and Wm Spence entitled to it was adopted. The House soon after adjourned.

Deposition of the Sultan Favorably Received.

LONDON May 31.—All the London journals augur favorably for Turkey in consequence of the revolution.

A special to the Pall Mall Gazette from Berlin says newspapers there unanimously regard the change favorable though the papers appear inclined to maintain an observant attitude. They are understood to view Murad Effendi's accession to the throne with satisfaction and sympathy. The revolution is attributed to Midhat Pasha's influence.

The Pall Mall Gazette also says the deposition of the Sultan Abdul Aziz is the crowning justification of England's course on the Eastern question and give to the arguments of the government an infinitely greater force.

Prepared to Accept.

PARIS May 31.—It is reported that Lord Derby has informed the Turkish ambassador that England is prepared to accept an international conference, provided the programme is set forth beforehand.

Coming to a Crisis.

LONDON May 31.—A Berlin correspondent reports that M Plumnauc Montenegro minister of war had an interview with Baron Rodich at Vienna on January last, when he informed the Austrian government that an offensive and defensive alliance had been concluded upon between Servia Roumania Montenegro and Greece. M Plumnauc was also understood to intimate that Thessaly and Crete would rise and support the movement in Northern Turkey. Altogether the situation is regarded as drawing to a crisis while the Porte confidently informs the powers that no armistice will be conceded on the terms proposed by the Berlin memorandum. The insurgent leaders loudly declare that they will continue to fight until independence is achieved. The official Russian Inveliden journal seconds these movements by a declaration that England's refusal to join the Northern powers cannot but bring on difficulties.

Germany has requested Turkey to pay $50 000 indemnity to the family of the German consul murdered at Salonica.

Russian Intrigue.

A Vienna dispatch says the succession of Murad to the Ottoman throne is generally considered as mainly due to Russia—instigating Servia and Montenegro to warfare.

England and Italy.

It is reported that the Italian government has received an invitation from England to come to an arrangement for united action.

Pledged to have a Constitutional Government.

A dispatch from Constantinople says that Murad is pledged to constitutional government.

The Turkish Cabinet Deposed the Sultan.

A Paris correspondent says an official dispatch from the Grand Vizier announces that the entire Turkish cabinet signed the deposition of the 30th inst. The deposition was accomplished during the night.

French Advice to Turkey.

The Due Decazes immediately on receiving the news of the act of deposition formally instructed the French ambassador at Constantinople to exert all his influence to induce the new government to hasten a pacific solution of the difficulties. He pointed out that Murad was free from embarrassing engagements. His succession would naturally induce a suspension of hostilities and an armistice was in no way inconsistent with the dignity of the government. The ambassador was therefore directed to urge the Porte to take advantage of the present opportunity to immediately enter into negotiations with the insurgents and to make concessions judged equitable and necessary and there by avoid the necessity of making them under the pressure of the powers.

Effect of the Sultan's Deposition.

A correspondent adds if one may judge by the steps of the French government it must be hoped the other governments are acting the same way) the deposition of Abdul Aziz will be immense to ward a solution of the existing difficulty.

As Viewed in Russia.

A dispatch from St Petersburg states that the Sultan's deposition has been received as an important occasion for a peaceful settlement of the Eastern question which is desired by all the powers.

A Note from the Five Powers.

A telegram from Pesth asserts that the five Powers agreed to present an identical note at Constantinople yesterday Tuesday, recommending two months armistice. The departure of the Turkish revolution probably prevented its presentation.

Servia for Insurrection.

A Vienna dispatch says it is rumored that Prince Milan has advised the consuls at Belgrade that he will issue a note declaring that Servia has no choice other than to lead the insurrection or perish.

Count Andrassy to Resign.

A rumor is circulating, that Count Andrassy is about to resign and Herr Frantmansdorf is about to succeed him.

Fire.

LONDON May 31.—Whitman & Smith's tool works in Sheffield were entirely destroyed by fire. Two hundred hands are thrown out of employment.

Deposition of the Sultan.

VIENNA May 31.—It seems from a constantinople dispatch that the deposition of Abdul Aziz was effected without any great excitement. Midhat Pasha is the principal author of the revolution. The once celebrated Poorman mine in Owyhee is yielding very handsome rock again and it is confidently expected that a bonanza will be struck erelong.

Over three million and a half of hooppoles were shipped from Thurston and adjoining counties since December last, the value of which exceeded $21 000.

Dr Colmache of Silver City Idaho died suddenly on the 22d inst while taking his usual afternoon nap at his rooms. He was highly respected and his loss is deeply mourned by the whole community.

The Turn Verein Society of Boise City attended a picnic on the 26th inst, and crowned the floral queen of May. The attendance was large and all are represented to have fully entered into the enjoyment of the hour.

Last Monday evening while little Harry Hooper aged about five years, was playing on the Fifth street bridge, Walla Walla he fell into the creek below and would have been drowned had not a lady observed the accident and summoned immediate help.

The Seattle Intelligencer of the 29th instant says: It is supposed, by a few, that some unhappy woman tried last night to hang herself under the Mechanics' wharf. A scarf was found tied around one of the cross pieces, with long hairs attached to it and the gravel beneath all scratched up as though by kicking struggling feet.

In opening a newspaper mail pouch at Walla Walla recently the postmaster found that a thin paper bag containing jewelry of considerable value had become crushed allowing the contents to become scattered. The package was intended for Fort Colville, but it seemed strange that property of such value should be forwarded from the East in such condition.

The Owyhee Avalanche of the 27th instant says: The finest looking gold brick that has been seen in this vicinity for a long time was made up by Simonds on Tuesday from Belle Peck crushing. Its total value was $10 202 79 the proportion of which in gold was $9,074 23 and the value to the ounce about $11 53. There were 72 tons of rock used in making this bar resulting in an average of nearly $142 to the ton.

The committee of arrangements at Walla Walla have about completed a programme of exercises for the Fourth of July. Salutes will be fired by a squad of soldiers from the garrison morning noon and night. The military and firemen will join in the procession at 11 A M, and move to Roberts' Grove where ample shades and seats will be provided. Judge Wingard will deliver the oration and it is expected that other literary gentlemen will follow him.

Last Saturday says the Walla Walla Union while Miss Jennie Owens, living on the Walla Walla river, was taking a buggy ride, the horse started to run away at which Miss Jennie became frightened and jumped out of the buggy. She struck the ground so forcibly that in some unexplainable manner, both bones of her left leg were badly broken below the knee. The unfortunate lady was taken home and Dr Bingham summoned to set the broken limb. At last accounts she was doing well.

OREGON.

A severe gale of wind prevailed at Astoria on Monday night, and some damage was occasioned thereby.

The Boys' Fire Company of Albany has fully organized and appointed committees to solicit money wherewith to purchase a large sized garden engine worth $75.

A boat in which were seated a number of young men from Salem capsized in the river opposite that place on Tuesday afternoon, resulting in a great scare and a good drenching.

The chapel of the Willamette University was filled with a large concourse of people on Tuesday evening last on the occasion of the graduation of a number of medical students. After the usual exercises President Gatch conferred the degrees on the following gentlemen who comprised the graduating class: Levi W Brown of Corvallis Dan W Cox Salem Oregon D Doan Eugene, Andrew J Giesy Aurora Jno F Irvine, Albany Harry Lane Last Portland, Thomas Mann Portland and J R Brown of Corvallis. The benediction was then pronounced by Rev H P Peck.

Last Sabbath the Rev Joseph Emery, of the Methodist Church South of Corvallis, held services morning and afternoon at Tangent. The attendance was very large, many of them present having come from a long distance. At the conclusion of the morning services planks were brought in and laid across the backs of the seats thus improvising a table when baskets were brought in and a good dinner eaten. After everybody had attended to their temporal wants the tables were cleared away, the church swept out, and all again seated themselves to listen to the services appointed for the afternoon.

The Coos county Record of the 27th ult says: "A most shocking and cold blooded murder was committed on Monday of this week at the farm of H H Lewis near Coquille City in this county Zachariah Lewis being shot and killed by his half brother Sevier Lewis. It appears that Sevier Lewis who has a family had some difficulty with his younger brother, the nature of which is not known to the public and last Monday after noon he deliberately loaded his pistol and yager and calling upon his son, a lad about fifteen years of age to accompany him with the remark that they might see some game before they returned proceeded to where Zachariah was plowing on his father's farm and shot him three times killing him almost instantly. After accomplishing his fiendish purpose he took to the woods carrying with him two pistols and his yager. As he has neither blankets nor provisions with him it is thought that he will not be able to evade the officers who are in pursuit of him. The boy who appears to have had no knowledge of his father's murderous purposes is in custody. The barbarity of this deed is augmented by the fact that it was committed in the presence of the aged father of the murderer and his victim. This assassin has been but a short time a resident of this county and formerly resided in the interior of the State.

Six months your skirt is comin down. It looks old an ugly. I'll go step inside dis door way I'll put it up for you," said a colored woman to a lady in Louisville the other day. Complexion of the California Democratic Delegation.

SAN FRANCISCO May 31.—The Bulletin this evening gives editorially as the result of a careful canvass the following reported preferences of California delegates to the Democratic National Convention at St Louis: First Congressional district—W Dunphy and G H Rogers both Tilden. Second—Colonel Hayes, Hendricks first, then Bayard. B F Baldwin, Tilden. Third—Armand Bay, Hendricks 8, N Cornwall Tilden. Fourth—J A Moultrie, Hendricks. D C Mott, Tilden. At large—Judge Hager Bayard; Gen English, Bayard or Hendricks. J E Hodge, Tilden. Clay Taylor Tilden. The delegation having been instructed to cast the vote of California as a unit, they will probably at the first ballot go for Tilden, whatever changes are subsequently made.

Railroad War.

SAN FRANCISCO May 31.—Suit has been commenced in the 4th district court by A Coelet J H Robinson and A Egl, to restrain execution of the proposed agreement between the Central and California Pacific Railroad Companies on the one side, and the German bondholders of the latter company on the other by which it was proposed to settle with the bondholders by paying them in bonds of California Pacific indorsed by the Central. In connection with the present railroad fight, it is rumored that C C Cooker intends bringing suit for libel against A A Cohen, who has been engaged in matters against the railroad, for words uttered by the latter in argument rejecting strongly on Crocker. Enough has been said on both sides during the progress of the controversy to afford ground for a dozen libel suits.

A prize fight for $300 a side, took place yesterday afternoon between George Wales and Petronne, of Dayton at a point between the latter town and Sutro. Deputy Sheriff Gearhart sprang into the ring during the sixth round but was hustled out by friends of the bruisers. While the eighth round was in progress Gearhart returned with a posse and arrested the fighters. They were taken to Dayton where they gave bail. Both were pretty badly cut up.

WHO SHALL BE OUR NEXT VICE-PRESIDENT?

A correspondent of the Alta of San Francisco, is of opinion that the Pacific coast is entitled to claim the next Vice-President and presents his candidate in the following letter:

Editors Alta: A correspondent says: Now that the anxious question of the American people is 'Who shall be our next President?' may we not inquire also, who shall be Vice-President? And are the States of this Pacific coast to have a potential voice in this selection?

Is it not time that that great territory lying west of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers should be entitled to a Vice President? And who are the most eligible, by reason of geographical and other reasons? I should like to hear from our Republican press an expression of their views. Somebody must initiate the movement and submit names for that position. It is proposed by a respectable number of persons to submit to the people and conventions of the Republican party the name of a gentleman now a resident of San Francisco—well known throughout the Pacific as well as the West. I mean the Hon George H Woods. He is better known as "Governor Woods," has been governor of the State of Oregon and the Territory of Utah—both of which positions he has filled with the utmost ability and fidelity to the interests and satisfaction of the people and the present administration.

He is well acquainted with nearly every public man on our coast—with the capacities and wants of the country.

He is a statesman in fact as in name in a comprehensive sense, and a lawyer of fine talents. As an orator with his fine elocution distinguished address and wonderful voice he has certainly no superior and few equals among our people besides he is a genuine Western man of the Lincolnian type—scrupulously honest genial bold free, open hearted and always ready to help a friend or meet an opponent with sharp repartee or sound logic. He is emphatically a man of the people and would be so regarded by them if a candidate for the high and dignified position of Vice President.

His name has already been suggested for that office by prominent leading Eastern journals as a representative man. The people of the Pacific coast and the great west desire a representative in the next administration and believe they are justly entitled to it. To that end we should make all proper sacrifices and concessions.

We want and must have the co-operation of our brethren in the Independents. It is suggested by several men of both those parties that the conventions of our several States and Territories west of the Mississippi river communicate as well by telegram as otherwise with one another. Let votes be taken to determine whether an Independent or Republican is their choice and who is the man and let concessions be made accordingly. The parties must be united. The Pacific States are entitled to a Vice President. Shall they have one?

The lightning rod man applied to the president of a railroad to put lightning rods on all of his cars. 'Lightning rods on our cars?' asked the latter. 'Why certainly.' 'What in the world do we want them for?' 'Because they make good conductors,' replied the man as he closed the door hastily behind him.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO May 24 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Anti Coolie meetings are very frequent, but I think from indications that the enthusiasm on the Chinese question is somewhat abating in this city. Some of the clubs have hit upon the happy expedient of admitting boys of all ages to swell their membership. The boys says one member can be made useful in several ways to carry out the objects of the club. It is not difficult to fire their young hearts in the cause. The papers are full of outrages committed by young hoodlums on Chinamen. The police do not seem to have luck in arresting the culprits. Captain O'Regan, the intellectual shipmaster, who honored Multnomah county by representing her in the legislature, some years since, is the president of one of the leading clubs. His opponent for that position insinuated that Daniel had practiced some of the little tricks learned from the "court house ring," in gaining his election, but I think it is a base slander, as I am satisfied that he was the choice of the club, because they wanted the benefit of his knowledge of parliamentary rules, and, as they propose to fight, if Congress don't give relief of his military experience.

One club decided that "no member of the club should be allowed to take any girl to a picnic who had her washing done by Chinamen." I expected to see a large falling off in the attendance at the picnics, but observing that the number increased rather than diminished, I arrived at the conclusion that the rule was more honored in the breach than in the observance, or that the girls wear very dirty clothes, for the Johns monopolize the washing business here and the average San Francisco girl would see the entire Chinese nation immigrate to this country before she would wash her own clothes. Almost every one in San Francisco that wears pants, and some that don't, smokes, and the newest of a number who had never smoked anything in his life but a shadeen, that he was in favor of posting the name of every man and woman who patronized the Chinese, on a big blackboard in a prominent place, and that he thought that persons who smoked cigars made by Chinamen as bad as any of them, came nearer ostracising the club. The matter was finally compromised by allowing the tobacco question to drop until Congress should take some action. It came near joining one of the clubs, thinking from the newspaper articles that the country was going to the "damnition bow wows" on account of the Chinese immigration, but delayed the matter to investigate, and while pursuing my inquiries read a card from the Chinese, which was published in one of the papers as an advertisement, and which, as their side of the question does not get a very extensive circulation in the papers of the ... I ... with ... clos[e]

"AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

We, the Chinese mercantile business firms, comprising the chief Chinese firms of this city, on behalf of the Chinese residents thereof, respectfully claim your attention. We recognise that the unrestrained animosity which at present exists to prevail against us among a large part of the population of this city. While we sincerely regret the fact, as it is, we respectfully submit that it is founded upon blind prejudice. We invite you that we are here in response to the ... invitation which has attracted to this country hundreds of thousands of people from all parts of the world. We come here with no malevolent intentions, no sinister designs, with no corrupt motives; but we remain in obedience to the laws controlling labor which has brought hither untold thousands from every land, namely the hope of improving our condition. As a general rule, we are prosperous here, but America offers far more prospects in China. That this comparative prosperity in both of these far distant lands should be, we think a cause of rejoicing. Americans in China find a new and unbounded field of usefulness, while our own people in this country find a new field open to them, which they are peculiarly suited to occupy. It is not a correct belief that we are draining this country of its precious metals. It is not true that we are impoverishing the poorer white classes. We could not exist here if there was not work for us to do and no place here could afford to employ us if our presence and labors resulted in impoverishing any other class. We make the necessary articles of life cheap. We do the menial duties which are necessary to support society. In discharging industriously the humble tasks assigned us, we do not drive others from these employments. We left others up. This is a fact which thinking men will not gainsay. There is work for everybody in this vast country. Its illimitable resources are only in the infancy of development. To properly develop these requires the best exertions of all the population. In this grand army of laborious toilers we play an important and indeed an indispensable part. We submit that the product of our labors is constantly augmenting the wealth of all ... Can it be denied that California is to-day the most prosperous part of the earth? The very men who are declaiming most loudly against us are the better off by reason of our being here. If, in some instances we displace white laborers, we counterbalance the apparent disadvantage by forcing them into lighter and more agreeable pursuits and at the same time cheapen labor places all the necessaries and comforts of life within their reach. Time will demonstrate that instead of getting in the way of white laborers, we are only putting ourselves under them and lifting them upon our toiling shoulders. We appeal to facts figures and statistics to show that the white laboring men of this State are better off than their brethren in any other part of the world, and we believe that if we should withdraw suddenly from this coast quick disaster would follow to all classes here. We desire to be a law abiding people. We hope and believe we are such. Many of us are investing our means here. We assist the officers of the law all we can in suppressing the bad men among us. If we thought our presence here a curse to this country or worked any detriment whatever to the white people, we should be dumb, but believing that we perform a most useful part in the extensive scale of social life—that we are benefiting others while we benefit ourselves—and that what we have said above are the words of soberness and truth we urge upon those who are hostile to us to review their hasty judgments and deal with us as they would themselves be dealt by.

San Francisco, May 22, 1876.

After reading this card I began to doubt if it was a good thing, to drive all the Chinamen out of the country and my doubts became stronger when I read an editorial in one of the leading papers speaking of the dullness and depression in the eastern cities comparing it with the general prosperity of this city and giving statistics to show that in no period in the existence of the city had there been such general prosperity. Manufacturing had largely increased, the number of sales of real estate to people of small means was much larger than in any preceding year, the number of small dwellings erected was greater than ever before, while wages were considerably higher than in any part of the Eastern States. To add to my doubts I happened to think that some twenty years ago I had a hand in the fight when native born Americans got a big scare on fearing that the Irish and Germans were coming over to take the country and that there was not room in the country for all the foreigners commenced pouring in from Ireland and Germany to work on the canals and railroads as the Chinese are now that were then being built. The first emigrants as a class were very low uneducated dirty people and, being unskil

SOMETHING FOR INVESTIGATION.

Investigations are now in order, and we propose to suggest a subject for investigation by the voters of the third judicial district. W. M. Ramsey is the Democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of that district, and his election is urged because of his tried integrity, and his popularity is illustrated by himself and other Democratic speakers by the alleged fact that he was once elected County Judge of Yamhill county. A very short tale will dispose of both these arguments, unless Mr. Ramsey can furnish some explanation of a transaction in connection with that election.

The facts are these: Mr. Ramsey was the Democratic candidate for County Judge, and David Smith the Republican candidate. On canvassing the votes it appeared Mr. Smith and not Mr. Ramsey had been elected. Mr. Smith received certificate of election in due form, Whether upon the duties of the office, and one or more terms of the county The groun Mr. Ramsey brought an action in the court contesting the election. A court decided the case against him in the favor of Mr. Smith. Mr. Ramsey to the Supreme Court. Mr. But We feel he has not appear in that court, and for Ramsey by default.

This seem to be sufficient to set MAY YOUNG him that Mr. Ramsey was only decision made by any Assignation of the case being The Republicans naturally people had been nullified no doubt sets in a mischief to be a collusion between travel. BRAINS ON THE OUTSIDE.

It is a good thing to have some brains ... ty, even though they are not in ... of its candidates. The Democ... of Multnomah county realize this ... and are making use of it. Hon. C. ... ger carries the brains of the con... and go... out with the candidates in ... stumping tours. By this contrivance he yanks them around in a manner truly amusing to the bystanders, and satisfactory to himself. We commend the discretion of the Democrats in arranging for the brains of Mr. Bellinger to run the tongues of their candidates; but it would have been far better for them to have followed the example of the Republicans and put up candidates who had brains enough of their own not to need a prompter.

Attention has been repeatedly called to the loan of the school funds of the State on property worth less than half the money loaned—and especially a loan made for the purpose of enabling Mr. A. Myers to build a large brick building on a piece of land on which the Wallamet Woolen Mills Company held a mortgage. It has been publicly stated that at the time that loan was effected certain members of the State Board who had the loaning of the funds were large stockholders in that company. So far there has been no explanation offered. Will the Governor, and Secretary of State and Treasurer, and so forth, explain, or will they not. It seems the only way for the people to get at the whole truth in this matter, is through a legislative investigation. And even this will be cut off, unless a Republican legislature is elected. This is an important matter. It is a matter vitally affecting the dearest interests of the people. Let the voters not forget it on next Monday.

We are not about to enter upon a discussion of the school book question, which so agitated the public mind two or three years ago. Our opinions on the subject were fully expressed at the time. We confess, however, that they would have been modified very materially had we known that to be the truth which has been, within a day or two, publicly charged by a Democrat of this county. At one of the public meetings in a country precinct, at which Mr. Sylvester Simpson spoke, a Democrat, we are informed, publicly charged that Mr. Simpson, who was Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State at the time of the school book agitation, sent to various county superintendents a letter offering to allow a percentage on the price of certain books if they (the county superintendents) would favor the adoption of those books under the uniformity law. There is a chance for Mr. Simpson to rise and explain.

Iowa goes for Blaine. The malignant fight made against him by the Democrats and their allies, the Washington ring, only helps him, as he comes out of every contest with a complete victory. The more they investigate him the more his purity and their unscrupulous motive is apparent.

GOVERNOR GROVER ON HIS TRAVELS.

MONMOUTH, POLK CO., May 30, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

I suppose many of your readers would like to hear from the political fight going on in "Old Polk." We have just crossed the La-Creole, going south. Ben Hayden, L. Bently and A. W. Lucas are the principal speakers, and I am pleased to say that so far they have treated each other courteously and gentlemanly. I really wish I could say so much of a certain other speaker who appeared on the scene at Zena, in Bethel precinct. I allude to His Excellency, L. F. Grover, who delivered himself of an animal on last Friday at the above named locality at 10 o'clock, P. M. He commenced by saying that he was not aware that it was the time advertised for the county candidates to speak, therefore thanked them very much for giving him a portion of their time, as he did not wish to interfere in their local matters, but proposed to talk to the people on national questions alone, particularly the monetary power of the government as run by the Republican party. He gave us a detailed account of the credit mobilier swindle, the Sanborn, the Babcock, and many other swindles in the Republican party; but didn't tell of some other swindles that your correspondent happened to know that he was somewhat familiar with, such as contracts to take wood from woodchoppers, etc. But His Excellency must needs be about his master's business, over in Polk; so he let down on national questions and paid a tribute of respect to the Independent party; said it was an anomaly in politics, also in nature; that all animals walked on either two or four legs—they must walk upright on two like a man, or on four like a beast. We Independents regarded his high compliment as being very kind and attributed it to his feminine nature, it having been said by one of his political brethren that he was "a sexual mistake." He said, in conclusion, that when he ran for governor the last time, Geo. H. Will ... used $10,000 in the different counties to beat him, and, said he, "If I had not had some means of my own, as well as a great deal of backbone (although denied) I would have been beaten." We verily believe him, so far as the money party is concerned. I will just say to the governor that he had better abandon his campaign in this county, for it is utterly impossible for him and his Master Bill, with all the private or public means they possess, to elect his faithful instrument of dirty shirt and whisky bottle notoriety to the State Senate, or any of his colleagues to the legislature this year. The entire Independent ticket will be elected, and Ben will be beaten about one hundred and twenty-five votes. The Governor can "put that in his pipe and smoke it."

BRIEF NOTES.

Hibernian picnic to-day

No new vessels reported off the bar

Interesting San Francisco letter to-day.

There is a painful lull of the annual baseball mania

During Tuesday night, the river rose three inches at the Dalles

Yesterday forenoon the O S N Co's lin... was down as soon as on the Dalles

Couch's lake is assuming huge proportions and will soon climb over its banks

The next holiday of obligation will be Thursday June 15th—Corpus Christi

A number of large iron buoys are now lying at Smith Bros foundry awaiting repairs

Messrs I R Strong and Hedges Stott will address the citizens of East Portland next Saturday evening

The water has covered a portion of the westside railroad track just north of the O S S Co's office

Next Monday being a non judicial day the county court will not convene before Tuesday, the 6th inst

The hull of Captains Holman and Gilman's tug below the Greenwich dock is completely surrounded with water

Election near at hand although it is scarcely perceptible from the manner in which the cauldron is ebullating

Cool weather is more welcome now than warm as the latter has no slight effect on the present high stage of water

The generally unstable state of the weather has had the effect of keeping picnics and excursions in the background

The telegraph line between Marion and Scio is in course of construction and will be completed in about two weeks

The present cool weather prevents sherry cobblers, ice cream, mint julips and soda water from coming rapidly to the surface

Mowing yards is a popular method of cultivating muscle at present It's all among the hay now Who wouldn't be a rake

Eight or ten of our best local ballardists are practicing for the contest to take place centennial week A second prize is suggested

The ringing of the caulker's hammer can be heard in the vicinity of the Greenwich dock, where the Jane A Falkinburg is being over hauled

Rev Father Hylebos, of the Cowlitz, is at present visiting the several stations belonging to the diocese of Nesqually along the Columbia river and Shoalwater bay

The members of the St Vincent de Paul Society will meet again next Sunday at 4 o'clock to complete arrangements for the forthcoming feast of the St. Vincent de Paul

The carpenter Mr Speckser who fell a distance of 20 feet at the new wharf a few days ago, is still confined to his room, but is recovering from the injuries sustained in his back.

A considerable force of men are employed on the new steamer purchased by the O S N Co from Captain Becannon From appearances the boat will be ready for the trial trip by the 1st of July

The little propeller Portland, which was beached on the east side of the river and treated to a coat of fresh paint was launched a few days since, and is now moored at the foot of Salmon street.

It is expected to have all necessary improvements and alterations to the interior of the State circuit court room completed before the 12th of June Mr Braden the contractor, is pushing the work energetically to completion

The monthly report for May shows 23 patients admitted to St. Vincent's Hospital during the month, making a total of 278 patients since its opening. Twenty six patients are at present under treatment

A number of men are busy repairing the planking of the railroad track on Fourth street, and in bringing old sidewalks to the grade corresponding to the railroad, as the company promised to do in order to secure the change of grade

The shaft which was formerly used on the steamer Onyhee was cut in twain, a short piece taken out, and the ends welded together yesterday at the Willamet Iron Works The shaft was too long for the steamer Welcome, and was reduced to the proper length.

The Waverly Social Club have engaged the steamer Bonita for a moonlight excursion to Oregon City. The arrangements will be perfected to day and the trip promises to be a most enjoyable one Invitations are to be issued to the immediate friends of the club only

The steam engines, confections, etc have been taken out of the old and dismantled steamer Julia, and will be sent to the machine shops at The Dalles in a few days A portion of this machinery will be overhauled and used on board the new steamer to be built this season at Celilo

One who has contributed his mite towards the centennial fund thinks it right and proper that, inasmuch as the base-ballists get individual prizes, those entering in the rowing matches should be treated in like manner This is but proper in view of the fact that the young men who propose to take part are actively at work and deserve individual recognition

PICNICS.

Elsewhere as published the programme of the Turn Verein picnic Further reference at another time,

Saturday, weather permitting the Sunday school connected with the First Congregational Church will hold their picnic

To day the Hibernian Benevolent society will hold their annual picnic at East Portland Park At 9 o'clock the members will leave their hall and march to the grounds headed by the Portland city band Soon after arriving at the park, a number of exciting sports will be inaugurated and prizes awarded the successful competitor The large platform will afford ample accommodation to all who desire to "trip the light fantastic" Late in the afternoon there will be a balloon ascention, and after night a display of fireworks

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mrs G H Clarke makes a new announcement to the ladies in another column

Big sale at Dayton on Friday Persons can leave on westside train to day at 2 30 P M

On account of early removal, Mr C A Burchardt is offering, in cases and barrels claret and wines at very low rates

We wish to call particular attention to the advertisement of Clarke & Henderson found elsewhere For one week this enterprising firm purpose making their annual clearing sale of remnants Now is the time to secure cheap bargains

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr Atkins agent for the California Minstrels has made arrangements to open for a short season at Oro Fino theater with a large and excellent company about Saturday 5th inst This company has performed for over six months consecutively in San Francisco to large and fashionable audiences with great success and come to this city with the highest recommendations The members composing the company are all artists in their respective lines and the public may anticipate a treat — plenty of genuine fun without vulgarity In view of the engagement Oro Fino will be renovated and a number of improvements made.

THE COURTS.

U S DISTRICT COURT—10 DAY J

WEDNESDAY May 31 1876

MEDICAL GRADUATES.

Our regular Salem correspondent, writing under date of the 31st, says

One of the most interesting features of commencement week at Willamette University is the graduating exercises of the medical class, which took place in the chapel last evening Every seat was occupied many spectators remaining standing the whole evening. Members of the profession visiting or local ministers trustees of the institution, students and graduates together with a few invited guests, occupied seats on the platform Music was furnished by the Aurora string band a guarantee sufficient that it was first class The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev H I Peck of the Presbyterian church of this city after which H a Rufus Mallory delivered the annual address Contrary to the usual order of things in such matters the address was admirably adapted to a mixed audience and was listened to through out with interest He hastily reviewed the medical sciences since its birth hundreds of years before the Christian era tracing its history down to the present time in a manner both interesting and instructive His language was choice and many of the passages abounded with wit and wisdom Taken as a whole the effort was most creditable and praiseworthy on his part Dr Bolt's charge to the class was at once eloquent and impressive His years of experience as a physician eminently qualified him to perform the duty imposed upon him and successfully did he perform that duty His suggestions were kindly his admonitions practical and his advice most worthy the class remained standing during its delivery, and seemed much impressed with its importance President Gatch then conferred the degrees and presented the diplomas to the following graduates Thomas Mann, of Portland Harry Lane of East Portland Andrew J Guess of Aurora Dan W Cox Salem John I Irvine Albany Levi Ward John R Brown Corvallis and Osmond D Doane of Eugene This closed the exercises and the audience was dismissed with the benediction by Rev Peck Immediately at the close of the public exercises the faculty students and invited guests, to the number of about one hundred, met at the Chemeketa hotel parlors, where an hour or more was spent in social converse, when they adjourned to the dining room where Thomas Smith the well known proprietor, had spread a feast intended to please the eye as well as the palate After dinner, speeches were then in order which were indulged in by Rev Robert Bentley of our city Rev H P Peck of this city Hon S F Chadwick Drs Sharples Hall and others The affair ended with a shake of the foot in the parlor indulged in by the young folks, after those objecting to such frivolity had gone home Long and pleasantly will be remembered the graduating exercises of the medical class of 1876

EUGENE ITEMS.

Under date of May 31st our Eugene correspondent sends the following

One of our Tonsorial artists, so report says is contemplating matrimony As he is one of the boys we sincerely wish him success

We have finally secured the services of a night watch, who gives satisfaction to all and gets as much praise as the last one did curses, which is saying a good deal

Our candidates for county offices spoke their little pieces at Junction yesterday and returned to town last night looking well pleased with themselves and confident of being elected

One of our young bloods returning from the meeting at Pleasant Hill Sunday med. crossing the streets rather hazardous he being well loaded with benzine, drove recklessly through town

The general health is good in the city and country and the crops looking finely As the Bible tells us "the prayers of the righteous availeth much we need about two such men to ask for good weather

Work on the bridge across the Wallamet at this place is being pushed vigorously ahead. The manner in which the work is done shows that the contractors, Miller & Son understand their business thoroughly

Eugene can boast of having at least one first class hotel the St Charles kept by Mrs Ben Irew, assisted by the gentlemanly clerk Austin Guerin, who spare no pains to make their guests feel comfortable and at home

The latest novelty of the season here is drawing straws for a girl Two of our young men loving the same girl and each being afraid the other would secure her affections, agreed to draw straws for her The unfortunate youth who lost says the old saying "A fool for luck" was surely verified in this case We think it is a case of sour grapes with him

MILITARY NOTES.

The quartermaster's department will furnish transportation from this city to Fort Lincoln for two enlisted men en route to Fort Klamath—guard for general prisoners transferred from Fort Klamath Oregon, to Fort Canby, Cape Hancock W T

So much of the term of imprisonment of John P Doyle and Collie Storch, general prisoners, Fort Klamath, Oregon—awarded by general orders No 13 June 9 series of 1873 which imposed confinement at hard labor for seven years three years of which were remitted by special orders No 119 August 7 1875—as remains unexpired June 10 proximo, on the recommendation of their post commander for good conduct while undergoing sentence is remitted, and they will be set at liberty

Post the time for Ulsters and such winter wear but just the season for summer suits in which you can be accommodated on short notice by Beck & Waldman Try them

Nothing like having the best the market affords and you can get that article at the popular headquarters of Fisher & Roberts who keep a full stock the best, and charge moderate prices

The opening of the summer trade is evidenced by the large shipments of Noble Whisky from H Fleckenstein sole Agent 147 First street Portland

Mr A M Elam, the successor of Elam & Co engaged in the livery business, corner of 1 and 20th streets, East Portland has completely refitted and refurnished his establishment and is now prepared to turn out some very stylish rigs Teams of all kinds constantly on hand

Ask your dealer for the "golden thread cigar

Peter Wilhelm at the Fountain First and Ash streets keeps things in a cosy shape His billiard tables are much admired and the new Virginia table is a great favorite Call and see him.

Everybody's favorite—the golden thread cigar

When you wish to present a respectable appearance dress well All the young and old men in the town consider that the late importations at Jas Kohn's are the best they have seen Kohn is always up to snuff and provides his patrons with the latest and best Examine the stock

Prof P P Haynie the eminent hemist writes of Nile Whisky that it is free from all deleterious substance and partic ularly free from that very objectionable substance fusel oil which, that great cure has been taken in its distillation

The oldest man in Oregon will be here at the Centennial and during his stay will furnish a summer outfit at Pomphlett's 70 Front street where barbering is offered

SEATTLE ITEMS.

Our Seattle correspondent writing under date of May 23d sends the following

The bark Izzie Williams arrived on last Saturday night

The bark Montana with freight came to port on Sunday night

The bark Sun of the Ocean arrived on Saturday night in ballast for coal

The barkentine Grace L Berts arrived here last Monday night with freight for this place

Mr Robinson's propeller which was built at Madison and launched recently is now lying here ready to receive her machinery

The Geneva sailed from here for San Francisco with Seattle coal to day She will be shortly followed by the Belle which is now loading

Mr Higgins leaves here this evening for Portland to make arrangements for dispatches for his morning daily which will appear on next Monday morning.

The power press for Mr Higgins arrived from Chicago on the Panama It is a very handsome press and from appearances will do good work Mr Brown has also purchased a power press from Mr Bagley of the Courier which is now being placed in running condition

Seattle can boast probably the most expensive sign for a place of business of any city on the Pacific coast It is that of Val Will's man made by his design for the Vanity Fair and is composed of large tastefully formed letters made of silver trade dollars which spell out the words distributed daily preceded by the figures 1 800 The letters are hung on hooks, and of course are removed every evening It is a curiosity and has excited no little amount of attention since it was put up yesterday Its cost is close up on $600 The most costly and appropriate sign for a place of business I ever saw is the general comment

On last Saturday night J R Robbins Esq while going home about 12 M was assailed by two parties who up to the present time unfortunately are unknown, and struck senseless with some deadly weapon He received the blow on his left cheek and as the skin was badly cut the inference is that the instrument was a sling shot He has not until to day been able to appear on the street The ruffians were foiled in their results as Mr Robbins had but a small sum about him at the time On the same night and near the same hour J R Andrews was stopped by the same parties (it is thought) and while one of them stood before him with a pistol cocked and uncomfortably near his face the pard searched him But Andrews, also being a printer, had not a single cent with which to reward their efforts Suspicion rets upon two or three parties though nothing definite is yet known as to their guilt

THE CANVASS IN LINN COUNTY

BROWNSVILLE May 31, 1876

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

We have just had our allowance of political clap music which is customary on the eve of an election I have been too busy to hear much of it, but heard enough to set my thoughts busily at work If there is one thing in this world that I do admire, that I do respect wherever I find it it is fairness The hall was well filled with people when I got there and everything was quiet while the Democratic nominee was pouring forth his eloquence in behalf of his party He was a fair speaker and quite reasonable, but when he said that the Democratic party was the only party that had ever done anything for the nation or for the poor man, and that, among many other things the Republican party was always found on the side of the monopolists and against reform and against the interests of the working man—when he brought up this so strongly by condemning everything Republican and praising everything on the other side—I thought it very strange that so many working men in this land of freedom should be so blind as to support such a party as he would have us believe the Republican party to be and he would point with pride to the good old Democratic party, and tell you at how much less cost the government would be run under Democratic rule, and how they were in favor of public schools, and that they (the Democrats) were the party that made the schools what they are. In my mind's eye I can see what economy, what retrenchment, what reform we would have under Democratic rule and it does sound good as a speech I would point out you, Mr EdItor, to a fair specimen of Democratic rule Take, for instance, the City of New York Here is a city ruled by them exclusively and I would ask in all candor has there been any frauds in its government? Let any candid Democrat answer that question

The Democratic speakers all wound up by urging all the people to stand by the party They also told much about the tariff and laid that all on the shoulders of the Republican party The last speaker on the Democratic side alluded to Mr Blackburn, by calling him a Knownothing, and said these words as near as I can remember Now fellow-citizens don't throw away your vote on a Know nothing but vote for a man that does know something (Bear in mind the speaker was running for the office of County Judge against Mr Blackburn) Is not that a powerful argument in favor of Democracy?

A few words on the other side and I am done The house kept good order all the time the Democratic speakers held forth, but as soon as the opposition commenced several Democrats left the hall—would not listen to a word on the other side of the question Mr Blackburn is the Republican candidate for county Judge He made a very fair honest speech, and cleared up many things that the opposition brought up but the main difference in his sentiments that I like, is this, in his own language, "If you find a man on the Republican ticket that you can not conscientiously vote for, who you think can not or will not fill the office honorably scratch him off and put on a man that you know will do it even if he be a Democrat So long as he is a good man and you feel satisfied that he is the best man for the place I say put him on" In the name of all that is candid, I ask if you hear any such sentiments as that from the other side. I can truly say we have not heard it yet, and I fear we never shall

CITIZEN

Regulate the Bodily Functions.

This advice should be especially heeded by those who suffer from an irregular habit of body or disorders of the bladder or kidneys Inactivity of the bowels or of the urinary organs is speedily rectified by that wholesome aperient and sterling invigorator the diuretic Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and as all affections of the organs of discharge have a strong tendency to become chronic and that very rapidly the use of the Bitters should not be delayed a moment longer than is necessary The action of this inestimable corrective upon the bowels differs widely from that of a drastic purgative since it is never violent or at right but always gentle and natural and its effects upon the bladder and kidneys are strengthening as well as mildly stimulative The healthful impetus which it gives to digestion also renders it a most desirable general tonic

ETHERIAL MILDNESS COME

The Spring arrives the swelling buds
Pout like a corrected child
The wild gusts northward squawking, scold
Before the south breeze growing tamed
Old Boreas growls and slips away
The sun once more benignant smiles
Night's rough as shortened and the days
Heaps sunshine up in golden piles

THEN AND NOW

They had not met for years Once they had leaned over the self same garden gate and sat side by side on the old fashioned hair cloth sofa, whispering those platitudes which young love makes of such breathless interest while the kerosene lamp was turned down to the faintest glimmer compatible with perfect propriety.

He had said that her image, and hers alone, could fill the void which absence from her left in his heart, and when, after unutterable flames of broken but impassioned English, he had said that he adored her she had gently reclined her head upon the bome-starched shirt-bosom that creaked above his manly breast he having, with great presence of mind wiped his handkerchief thereon, in view of any contingency.

And then he had taken the assurance that she reciprocated his affection, from her own lips, and he remarks with a sad smile that her speech was faintly suggestive of fried onions of the previous day but in those heavenly moments he thought that the odor of violets in spring was exhaled from her lips.

He went away to work They corresponded [illegible] from two letters a week, the correspondence dwindled down to the exchange of a postal card, and then silence

[illegible] they have met, before his [illegible] had done heading, he saw that instead of the perfect girl with brown hair and a lithe, graceful form, which somehow he had pictured to himself as encountering, there stood a stout woman with a fine front, who said

"Well, James, I do declare! How old you've grown an' how gray you be"

And he had replied, Well, Hannah, I never should have known you How stout you are!"

"Good heavens, is that fat old woman the one that I thought I once loved? he whispered to himself as he turned away, while she [illegible] half audibly, "Lemme see wasn't I engaged?"—Boston Commercial Bulletin

THE TWO "DUKES."

A [illegible] and drummer (says the Leader) went to Elgin a few Sundays ago, and while [illegible] in his room heard, from the next room, [illegible] question and answer

"Who do you say you are?"

"Why, I am the Duke of [illegible]," during which the latter sat in open-mouthed wonder, and his astonishment was again broken.

"Who do you say you are?"

"I am the Duke of [illegible]."

He waited much longer alone, the [illegible] down to the office, learned [illegible] people were in the house, [illegible] drummers to hear the fun, [illegible] to his room. The wicked [illegible] handkerchiefs in their [illegible] during the next quarter of an [illegible] and counterfeit put and another [illegible] have their dimes by the unconscious [illegible] blushing bride.

Just [illegible] Have it, the bride [illegible] between two of the [illegible] the original discoverer of the [illegible]. The table had been [illegible] and orders for dessert given. At that a moment a [illegible] the entire [illegible] of the table he, locked [illegible] friend, and in dulcet [illegible] the conundrum

"Why are you?"

[illegible] was equal to the emergency, [illegible] and sweetness got in his [illegible]

"Because," the flutter of a [illegible] the door way, two vacant seats [illegible] and four crazy drummers laughing [illegible] rats, dashed across the vision [illegible] as the curtain fell.

A LITTLE PEOPLE.

[illegible] other proposed to give him [illegible] Miss Warner's new story, replied [illegible] don't. I vote that often enough at [illegible]

[illegible] not to wear out their knuckles by "knuckling down" A patent has been [illegible] for a pistol which is designed to [illegible] by the aid of a spring

[illegible] instructing his three-year-old [illegible] "If you had three apples and [illegible] one how many would you [illegible] I wouldn't do it, pa," was the [illegible]

[illegible] the captain, "before you can [illegible] you must be able to make three [illegible] piece of rope, try it" "All [illegible] the youngster, here is one end, [illegible] and checking it over [illegible] is third." The captain thought [illegible]

[illegible] papa had just gone to the [illegible] at Aldershot)—"What will papa learn at this [illegible]" Mumma—"He will be taught how [illegible] a true and a great many things [illegible] understand, but there is one [illegible] (impressively), which I very much [illegible] could teach you—to do exactly [illegible] I said that: he always has to do [illegible] Harry (reflectively)—"Well, I [illegible] that: he always has to do [illegible] Harry can't think why mamma [illegible] all day; wonders, privately, if she [illegible] to go to school next, (strictly private) [illegible]—Judy

[illegible] PER HOUSING.—A couple from the [illegible] to the city yesterday (says the [illegible] K. Journal), procured a license, and [illegible] it in due form. They attracted [illegible] attention of every passenger by their [illegible] display of affection The young [illegible] at his arm tight around the bride's [illegible] as if he was afraid she would vanish before [illegible] knew it and she didn't seem to care if [illegible] her right along for half a day She [illegible] was terribly homely that everybody won [illegible] how he could love her, and by and by [illegible] to think that an explanation would be [illegible] He borrowed a chew of tobacco of [illegible] near the door, and remarked

"I'm going to hug that girl all the way [illegible] though I know she isn't purty

"I wouldn't," briefly replied the man

"And that's where you'd fool yourself" [illegible] the young man When I'm hugging a hundred acres of clean, nice land, with forty acres of stock on it, I can make the howl! I girl in the world look like an angel to me."

A GOOD JOKE ON THE EMPEROR.—A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun tells an excellent joke on the Emperor "He says that on the occasion of the visit to the Supreme Court chamber on Monday last Dom Pedro was conversing in an audible tone with the Brazilian minister while Justice Miller was reading an opinion The marshal of the court rapped and commanded silence and Judge Miller suspended his reading and remarked sternly, We don't allow but one to talk here at a time" The Emperor was quite discomfited, and shut up at once and as soon as he recovered his equanimity left Neither the justice nor the marshal knew who he was Afterward some one remarked to Justice Miller that it was the Emperor of Brazil whom he had rebuked, when the justice said emperors must respect the proprieties of the court room just as well as common people

An old Scotchwoman whose favorite son was in the habit of swearing occasionally, was censured by her minister for not correcting him. "It's vera wrong, minister," she admitted, "but ye maun also that it bets aff concentration mightily"

We have no new features to report in the local money market the usual status of affairs being well maintained Although silver is at a low amount in the banks it passes readily at par in the payment of small accounts the spirit of hostility towards it only coming to the surface in cases where the money is known to have been purchased at a discount in order to pay the bill in question In San Francisco the usual discount is maintained, and at the date of our last mail advices the market was drooping under fresh importations from the East aided by the news of a weaker market in London for refined silver

The National Gold Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco announce that all demands of depositors will be paid upon application and interest will cease after June 1st There is some $40,000 yet due to depositors on which interest is allowed at the rate of 10 per cent per annum The sale of two pieces of property belonging to the bank for $175,000 has enabled the officers to make this announcement. There is some talk of resuming business and the question will probably be decided in a few days

Considerable activity was manifested in trade circles to day and the volume of transactions were larger than upon any previous day during the week Merchants from all sections of the country are coming upon the market and all are disposed to buy largely in view of the constantly growing trade which seems to brook all interference from bad weather dull times etc In Eastern Oregon the trade is growing apace and were it not for the difficulties attending the marketing of the produce, the country would almost double its population and materially enhance its material prospects Throughout the country money is scarce, and this is the only drawback to a healthy competition in trade, since merchants must of necessity be able to carry their customers over each season, thus using a larger capital than ought to be employed where the volume of business is limited The cash system is the only true basis upon which to conduct business, and the sooner Oregon is placed upon this footing, the sooner will she be emancipated from the thraldom of penury

The San Fradcisco Bulletin of the 25th inst. speaking of the importation of eggs from the East says "Altitude was made a day or two ago to the free arrivals of eggs by railroad These imports have been unusually large which is all the more remarkable from the fact that California and Oregon eggs have been quite low in this market for some time During the past fortnight over half a dozen car loads of eggs have been received from Iowa and the adjacent States and Territories. These shipments have been so large as to use up every available patent carrier and some shippers were compelled to pack in barrels One house alone has received 30,000 dozen of these eggs and as many as half a dozen houses have been engaged in the import. ing It does not speak well for our hen keepers that such large supplies from the East can find a profitable market here The first consignments sold readily at 22c, but the price is now hardly over 22c. The hotels restaurants and bakers are all large buyers. It is said that some retailers candle these eggs and then sell them for fresh California laid eggs, at a handsome profit.

The Wool Question.

In yesterday's issue we referred to the fact that the growers of the State were disposed to either hold their surplus wool or ship the same to the East upon individual account and now we learn from an authoritative source that they have concluded to ship through the house of Rodgers, Maurer & Co., receiving an advance of from 60 to 75 per cent of the local value The Grangers, in their circular announcing this combination, state that they are led to take the step by reason of the fact that the California and Oregon dealers have combined for the purpose of depressing prices and dividing the unusual profits accruing from the transaction. As the current quotations in Eastern markets, we should judge that there was but a slight margin, but still we would not discourage the movement, since personal experience is necessary to insure those relations which ought to exist between buyer and seller The wool trade is too diversified to admit of any combination, even were such a thing contemplated and the averseness of buyers to making heavy engagements showed most conclusively that they were not aware of any improvement in values, and were only buying because they wished to remain in the business, trusting solely upon some future speculative movement for a profit. The buyers upon this coast claim that they lost from three to five cents per pound on all the wool purchased last season by waiting for an upward movement and to-day they are willing to transact business for growers at a lower commission than has ever ruled upon the coast holding themselves in readiness to make the usual advances While our wool is seeking a market abroad our manufacturers are importing from California and it seems very probable that fully one half of their requirements for the year will be drawn from the same source as the difference in cost legitamatizes the transaction

Freights and Charters.

There is a very fair demand for tonnage in San Francisco to load wheat in July and August and for the transportation of salmon and other merchandise to Atlantic ports. The owners of such vessels as are nearly due do not care to fix them preferring, in view of the large grain crop, to take their chances upon the market, while the owners of such vessels as have sailed or are about to sail for that port, are desirous of securing engagements, but meet no response upon the part of shippers who in the light of past experience, are inclined to await developments Spot freights for first class vessels for June and July loading are quoted at £3 2s 6d.
